

newfoundland Pony photo drive

In January of this year, the provincial government, with the help of the Newfoundland Pony Society and Memorial University's Department of History, launched a project to honour this Heritage Animal. Members of the public are asked to submit photos and stories of Newfoundland Ponies to help create a photo archive and a book of their submissions. Submitters to this project can contact Dr. Christopher Youé at the Department of History at 709-737-8420 or by e-mail at cyoue@mun.ca. Submissions can also be mailed to the Department of History, Memorial University, St. John's, NL, A1C 5S7.

Downhome is also interested in your pony photos and stories. You can mail them to Downhome, 43 James Lane, St. John's, NL, A1E 3H3, or do what these readers have done and upload them to DownhomeLife.com.

Spotted in Central

(Above) This Newfoundland Pony was photographed on Change Islands during the summer of 2008.

Rita Bowering
Twillingate, Newfoundland

Her Work Here is Done

"Beauty, our Newfoundland Pony, is 31 years old (human years). She was once used as a workhorse in the winter months to haul firewood, but she is long retired and remains our family pet."

Michelle St. John's, Newfoundland

How About a Nuzzle?

"Bertha Lucas, kissing a genuine Newfoundland Pony. Taken in Howley, Newfoundland, a very beautiful paradise."

Rod Benoit Brampton, Ontario

Hands-on Experience

Sammi enjoys the company of Newfoundland Ponies at the pony sanctuary in Hopeall, Newfoundland.

Melinda Chopik Oshawa, Ontario

This Ain't No City Horse

This is Bay Boy doing some winter work in the Codroy Valley.

M. Deane
Doyles, Newfoundland

