

Charlie's Dream of Port Blandford

If your idea of a weekend getaway includes a spacious cottage, stunning ocean views – and some furry Newfoundland Ponies to hang out with, Cathy Coveyduck's place in Port Blandford is the spot for you. She and her husband Jim Lewis, run Terra Nova Cottages, RV Park and Conference Centre. And though it has been a tough year on many businesses that depend on tourists, it sure helps to have a star attraction.

Enter baby Newfoundland Pony, Charlie's Dream (Reg # 906) who was born on May 3, 2020 in the height of the pandemic. His Dam is Valen's Fancy (Reg # 859) and Sire, the magnificent Dawson's Star (Reg. # 651). The three of them make a pretty cute family and are permanent residents on the grounds of Terra Nova Cottages. 'Charlie' is like any foal – he's curious, manages to get into a ton of mischief and of course, loves attention. He's also interested in making friends with their Newfoundland Dog, Bear.

Cathy and Jim are new to the Newfoundland Pony world and are amazed at how easy it is to keep them. "One pony, three ponies; it's all good!," she laughs. She is enjoying the unique world the ponies have opened for them at a time of uncertainty when the entire world is changing. "It is incredible all the people we've met through the Newfoundland Pony connections. Our world has changed for the better and we're very grateful. We're working hard to learn about this unique breed and trying to do our part to help them survive into the future."

For more information, visit www.terranovahospitalityhome.com or email C_COVEYDUCK@hotmail.com.

For more information please visit www.newfoundlandpony.com

Like us on Facebook

